_____ I stood up and walked towards the window. There was a beautiful double rainbow across the sky.

- 3d Continue the story in 3c using your imagination. Be sure to use indefinite pronouns.

SECTION B

What can we learn from holiday experiences?

- 1a Look at the photos below. Do you know which country it is? Would you like to visit it?

Red Square

Alexander Garden

- 1b Read Vincent's diary entries about his holiday. Then answer the questions.

1. What places did Vincent visit?
2. How did he feel during the trip?

17 July

Today was our first day to visit Moscow. The weather was fine and everyone felt excited to visit some famous places in Russia.

In the morning, we went to the Victory Museum. The Russian people built this museum to remember their fight against the Nazis during World War II. As we walked through the halls, the tour guide told us stories about the war.

In one hall, I saw an artwork with thousands of glass "tears" falling down. It reminds us that war is terrible and peace does not come easily. We should not forget that.

At noon, we had lunch at a restaurant near the park. I liked the ice cream there, so I ate a lot of it. But, during dinner, I didn't feel like eating because I felt sick. So now, I just want to get a good night's sleep.

18 July

It rained last night, so this morning the air was fresh and cool. I felt much better today.

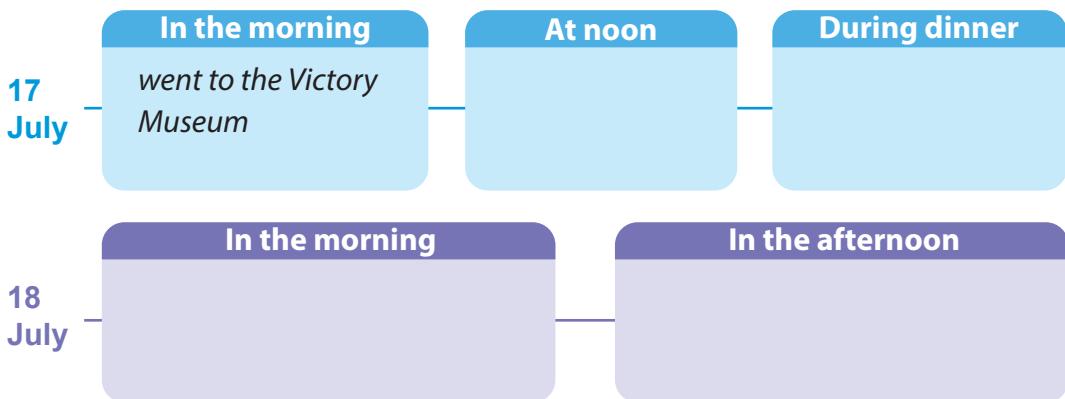

We took the Moscow Metro to travel around. The metro stations are really beautiful. Sometimes I felt like I was walking inside a palace. After that, we went to Red Square. It was fantastic!

In the afternoon, we arrived at a school and met a group of Russian students. We played games and soon became friends. Later, someone took out his accordion, and soon everyone got together to sing and dance. We were so happy that we didn't notice the time. It was such a good experience!

Moscow Metro

1c Read the diary entries again. Complete the timeline.

People spend their holidays in different ways. Some travel to see beautiful sights and _____ in strange, faraway places. The amazing scenery makes them smile and _____ their worries. Others stay comfortable at home, _____ when they are tired or not feeling well. They do nothing but relax, sleep, or watch TV. Many people _____ with friends and family to have a meal or play sport. There are lots of ways to relax and have fun. However, the most important part of a holiday is to rest your mind and body. Then you can go back to your regular life, and be _____ to see what comes next.

3a Read Gina's holiday story and write down the things that she did.

My Holiday in Scotland

Last autumn, my family took a train to Scotland for a holiday. We stayed in a comfortable house in the countryside with beautiful scenery. I live in a big city, so everything seemed so different. For example, beside the house, there was a huge forest.

On the last day, early in the morning, I went to the forest to explore. While there, something made a noise. I turned around and was surprised to see a deer.

I ran home and told my parents what I saw. My mum smiled and said, "The deer is probably looking for food and hoping to get some from you." What a wonderful experience I had! I really hope I can go back again.

Things that Gina did

2 Listen and read. Notice the sense groups and pauses.

Peter: Mum, | can I invite my friends | to our new house?

Mum: Sure, | Peter. || But we need to clean up first. || Would you like to mop
the floor | or clean the windows?

Peter: I'd like to clean the windows.

[An hour later.]

Mum: Good job, | Peter! || The windows are really clean, | and they look like mirrors!

2a Listen to the conversation and fill in the blanks.

Dad: Guess what! Grandpa and Grandma are visiting us this weekend!

Jim: Oh, great!

Peter: I can't wait to show them our new house!

Mum: Yes, but now we need to _____ for their arrival. Can you help me _____ their room?

Peter: But their room is already clean!

Mum: Well, it's not "grandma clean" yet!

Peter: Oh, OK.

Dad: Jim, can you help me _____ on the wall? I bought it for Grandpa to see the time.

Jim: Sure, Dad.

Dad: Helen, can you _____ to their room? Grandpa likes reading books in front of the window.

Helen: No problem, Dad. Can I _____ by the window?

Dad: Yes, good idea! Grandma loves flowers.

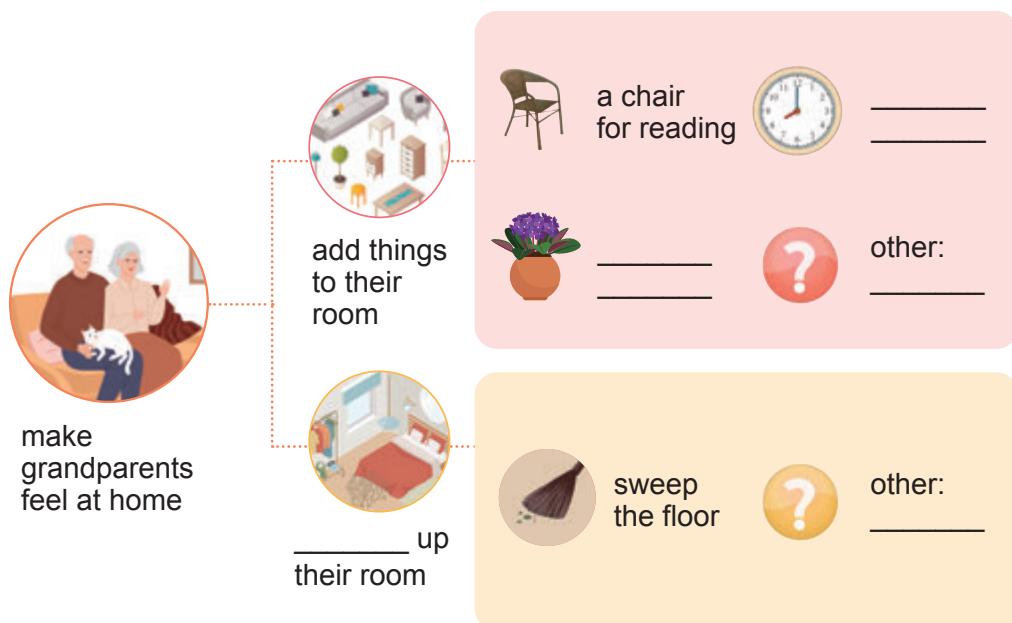

Helen: Mum, could you take me to the _____ later?

Mum: No problem. Let's go after lunch.

2b Read the conversation and answer the questions.

1. Did Peter's grandparents visit his new home before? Why do you think so?
2. What does "grandma clean" mean?
3. Why does Helen want to go to the flower shop?
4. What do you usually do for your grandparents?

2c Complete the mind map with the information from 2a. Add more things to the "other" section.

2d Listen to the conversation again. Then role-play it.

2e Peter is preparing for his friend's visit to his new home, but he needs help. In groups make up conversations between Peter and his family.

go shopping buy drinks buy fruit make biscuits
cook a meal borrow a chess set plan a treasure hunt

Peter: Dad, could you please give me a lift to the shop this afternoon?

Dad: Sorry, but I have to work from home all day.

Peter: Helen, can I borrow your chess set?

Helen: Sure. Here you are.

Grammar Focus

- 3a Read the questions with can or could. Notice how they are answered. Then write R for requests or P for permission next to each question.

Could you please sweep the floor?	Yes, Dad. I'll do it at once.
Could I hang out with my friends after lunch?	Sorry, Jim, but you have to pack up your things first.
Can I put some flowers on the table?	Yes, good idea!
Can you help me hang up the photos?	Sure. / No problem!

- 3b Choose the best question to complete each conversation.

- A. Could you give me a ride to town now? B. Can I stay out until eleven?
C. Mr Lake, could I go to the toilet? D. Could I use your computer?

1. A: _____
B: Of course you can.

2. A: _____
B: Yes, if you are careful with it.

3. A: _____
B: No, you can't. You have a basketball game tomorrow, remember? You need a good rest.

4. A: Can I go to the movies?
B: Of course.
A: _____
B: I can't. I have to do some work now.

- 3c Make up conversations for each setting, using can or could.

1. You're at your friend's home. You want to call your parents, but your phone is dead.
A: Can / Could I use your phone? B: Sure. / Of course.
2. You were sick at home yesterday. Your friend went to an English class and took notes. You want to know more about the class.

3. You are holding a large box. It is difficult to open the door. Your neighbour comes.

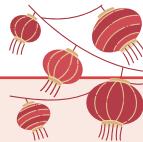

4. You and your classmates want to help clean up the community. Ask your classmates to bring gloves and rubbish bags.

SECTION B

How do you feel at home?

1a How does home make you feel? Share your ideas with a partner.

1b Read the story and answer the questions.

Going Home for the Spring Festival

"It's almost the Spring Festival. Can we go to Hainan for the holiday, Dad?"

"Not this time," Dad answered with a smile. "We're going to your mum's hometown!"

Soon the day of our family trip came. We got up very early in the morning to catch the train. The train journey took more than seven hours, and then we changed to a bus to get to my grandparents' village in the evening. At the end of the road, I saw Grandpa and my little cousin standing in the cold wind waiting for us. We walked quickly to greet them.

Grandpa helped us pull the heavy luggage into the house.

"Ah, home again!" said Mum with a smile on her face. Grandma, my aunt, and my uncle were busy cooking dinner in the kitchen. They were very happy to see us. After a little while, my parents went to the kitchen to help.

"Could you bring Wenwen her favourite snacks?" Grandma asked Grandpa.

I shared the snacks with my cousin and told Grandpa about school. He was happy to hear I was doing well at school. When dinner was ready, I asked, "Can I help?"

"You can set the table," Dad said.

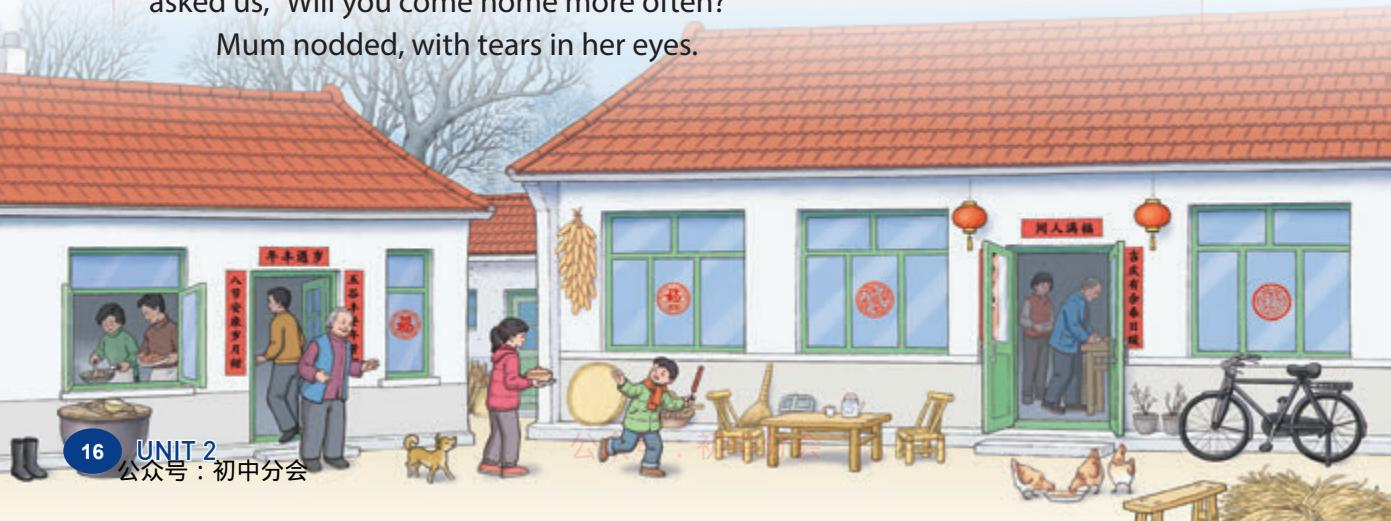

We then enjoyed all the delicious food.

"Mm, the familiar taste of home!" said Mum.

During the dinner, my uncle told us some jokes and we had a good laugh.

Several days later when we were leaving, Grandma held my hands and asked us, "Will you come home more often?"

Mum nodded, with tears in her eyes.

1. Where did the writer go for the Spring Festival?
2. What is the name of the writer?
3. In the text, what words are used to describe people's feelings?

1c Read again. Complete the sentences to see what each family member did to make home full of love. Find more examples from the text.

1. _____ waited for us in the cold wind.
2. _____ helped us pull our luggage into the house.
3. _____ cooked dinner in the kitchen.
4. _____ went to the kitchen to help.
5. _____ brought out my favourite snacks.
6. _____ shared the snacks with my cousin.
7. _____ talked about my school life.
8. _____ set the table for dinner.
9. _____ told jokes and we had a good laugh.

1d Read the poem and opinions. Then share your understanding of “home” .

My home is also called family.

No matter how long I'm away, home is always glad to see me again.

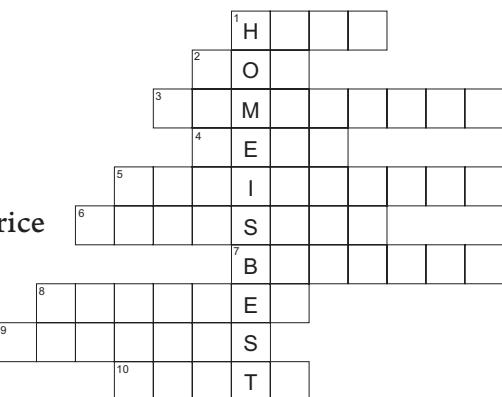

Home is a place of love. It always welcomes me with open arms—and perhaps a plate of freshly-made biscuits.

Home is not a place ... It's a kind of feeling. It greets me when I walk through the door.

Vocabulary in Use

2a Complete the puzzle with the new words in this unit. The clues can help you.

- to look for something
- to move your head up and down
- the people living in the same area
- not living
- a room in a house for people to relax
- something important or with a high price
- a room for sleeping in
- a long trip
- maybe

3a Read the email and find out what Zhang Peng asks his friend to do.

EMAIL

To: _____

Subject: _____

Hi John,

It was fun to decorate your room last month. I share a room with my brother. We want to decorate it too. Can you help us?

Right now, the walls are blue. There are cute animals on them, but the animals look too young for us. We want to cover the animals and paint the walls light green. What do you think about the colour?

On Sunday, we can meet at the paint shop near the shopping centre and choose the paint together. Then we can paint the room with my brother. I loved the brushes we used for your room. Can you bring them?

After painting, could you help choose some photos to hang on the walls? Let me know what you think.

Best,
Zhang Peng

How do we understand differences?

1a Are you similar to or different from your friends? In what ways?

1b Read the posts. What are Matt's and Diana's opinions?

Some people think that friends should be alike, but some other people think that friends should be different. What do you think? Should friends be similar or different?

Matt

4 hours ago

I think a good friend is like a mirror. You can understand people by knowing their friends. My friend, Stephen, is a great example. We often hang out together because we have similar hobbies and interests. For example, we both love sports. He plays badminton better than I do, so he always wins our matches. Because of that, I try harder when I practise, and now I'm getting better at badminton.

Stephen and I are similar in other ways. He is as serious as me. When we aren't playing sports, we enjoy reading together. I read more history books than he does, and he reads a lot of novels. We often share interesting books with each other.

3 hours ago

Diana

I don't agree. For me, friends who are different make me better. I think we should respect each other's differences and learn from each other. For example, I am kind of shy, but my best friend, Yuan Lei, is outgoing. She has a great sense of humour too. Thanks to her, I am becoming more outgoing. Now I think meeting new people is really fun!

I have another friend, Zhang Yong. He is not afraid to give his opinion, especially when he thinks I am making a mistake. I am less straightforward than he is, but I am glad to have an honest friend.

1c Match the people with the descriptions.

| 1. Matt | A. reads a lot of novels |
| 2. Stephen | B. reads more history books |
| 3. Diana | C. gives direct opinions |
| 4. Yuan Lei | D. is kind of shy |
| 5. Zhang Yong | E. helps a friend become more outgoing |

1d Read the posts again and answer the questions.

1. Why does Matt think that a good friend is like a mirror?
2. In what ways is Stephen similar to Matt?
3. Why is Matt getting better at badminton?

I don't really care if my friends are similar to or different from me. I have two amazing friends. Lily is funnier than anyone else I know. When I feel sad or have a problem, she makes me laugh and feel better. She helps me see the silver lining in difficult situations.

My other friend, Lucy, is not as funny as Lily. Lucy is quieter, but she listens better than others. Lucy and I talk about everything. I know she cares about me because she's always there to listen.

My favourite saying is, "A true friend reaches for your hand and touches your heart." Both Lily and Lucy are true friends. We are always ready to help each other by lending a hand.

How are plants and animals connected with us?

- 1a Look at the title and the pictures below. Guess what the text is about.
- 1b Read the text and underline the adjectives the writer uses to describe bees.

We Can't Live Without Bees

Imagine you go to the supermarket in your area, but there are almost no fruits, vegetables, honey, milk, eggs, or chocolate. How would you feel? Disappointed? Angry? Sad? At this moment you realize people, plants, and animals are all connected. We need each other to live, and bees are one of the best examples of this connection.

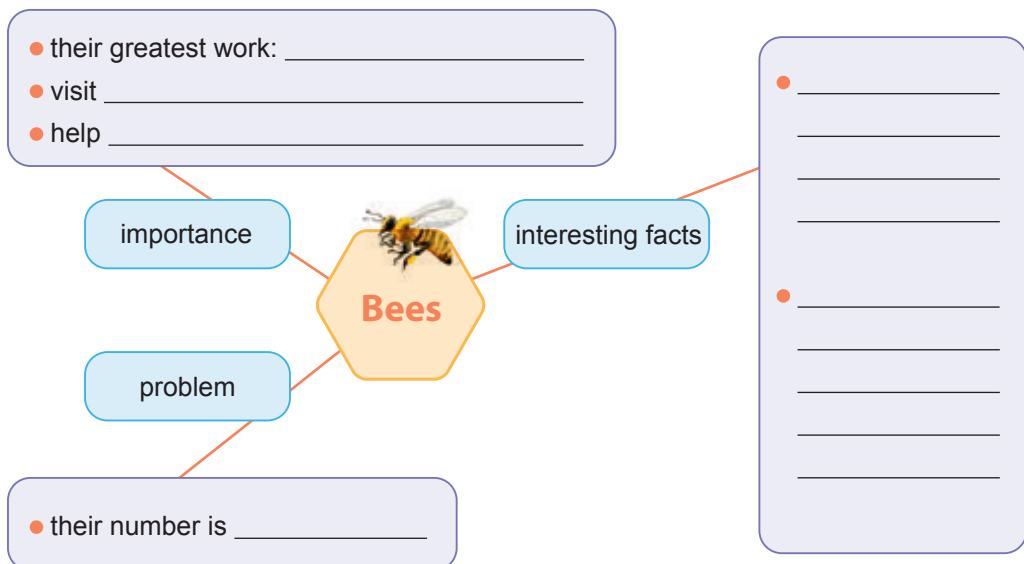

Bees are very hard-working animals, and their greatest work is pollination. On one trip, they often visit 50 to 100 flowers. As they fly from one flower to another, they take pollen with them. This action helps plants grow. In fact, without their work, about 80 per cent of the plants in the world cannot grow. For this reason, many scientists believe that bees are the most important animals on this planet.

Bees are also one of the most interesting animals in the world. For example, they work hard together to make their homes. In order to store honey, they create honeycombs. Another interesting thing about bees is how they communicate. When a bee finds new food, it uses a dance to tell the others where and how far away the food is.

Bees play an important part in the ecosystem of our planet. However, the number of bees is dropping, and scientists are worried. They need our help, and there is a lot we can do. Think about what you can do to protect one of the most amazing animals on earth.

1c Read again and complete the mind map with the information from the text.

1d Discuss the questions.

1. Can you give another title for the text?
2. What other interesting facts do you know about bees?
3. What do you know about the connection between humans and other insects, such as ants and butterflies?

1e Imagine you are the writer. Write one more paragraph about bees and add it to the text.

1f How do you understand the connection between people, plants, and animals? Think of some examples and then share them with a partner.

A: We all know people and nature are connected. But can you give me an example of how they are connected?

B: Sure. I visited a small town in Guangdong once. There are many large trees in the town. They are home to many birds. A lot of tourists come to see the trees and the birds ...

Because of this, they are popular subjects in studies on climate change and the ecosystem.

3a Read the text and complete the table.

The Blue Whale

The blue whale is the largest and heaviest animal on earth. It can weigh as much as 200 tons. Many people like watching blue whales swim, and they think it is one of the most beautiful things to see. Blue whales live in all oceans except the Arctic Ocean. They eat a lot, but they eat some of the tiniest animals in the ocean. A blue whale can eat around four tons of these a day.

Blue whales can live up to 90 years. When a blue whale dies at sea, it becomes food for many kinds of animals living in and around the sea. This food lasts for over a year and it helps to create a lively and healthy ecosystem. Blue whales play an important role in our world, so we must protect them.

What does cooking give us?

1a Discuss the questions.

1. What's your favourite dish? Who often makes the dish for you?
2. What kind of food makes you happy?

1b Read the text and tick the best main idea.

- Through food and cooking we create memories and show love to others.
- It is fun to learn how to make food from other cultures.
- I have wonderful memories of my grandmother's kitchen.

Food for Thought

"Cooking is love made visible." That is what my grandmother always told me. Thanks to her, I love cooking. It's a great way for me to share my love with others. Every time I sit at the table, after cooking for my family, we create memories. The smells and the food's taste, along with our conversations, connect us to each other. What wonderful memories I have!

One of my favourite memories is my grandmother's pumpkin pie. She always made it in autumn, when the weather got colder. Her friendly kitchen was the perfect place to warm up and enjoy a taste of the changing seasons. I still remember the days when the smell of cinnamon filled the room with sweetness. Now, every time I smell cinnamon, I think of my grandmother's pumpkin pie.

My grandmother told me about her first pumpkin pie. When she was a college student in the US, she stayed with a host family. One year around Thanksgiving, the hostess taught her how to make a pumpkin pie. Many years later, she taught me how to make it too.

Pumpkin Pie Recipe

Ingredients: eggs, sugar, cinnamon, salt, pumpkin, cream, pie crust

Instructions:

- First, mix the eggs.
- Then, add the sugar, cinnamon, salt, pumpkin, and cream.
- Next, pour the mixture into the pie crust.
- After that, place the pie in the oven and cook for 40 to 50 minutes.
- Finally, let the pie cool for at least an hour before serving.

My grandmother loved learning how to make food from other cultures. "It's my way of making friends from around the world," she said. Grandmother taught me the secret to cooking: Cook with love. Thanks to my grandmother, I love to try new food and new recipes from other countries and cultures.

1c Read again and answer the questions.

1. Why does the writer love cooking?
2. What was so special about the grandmother's kitchen?
3. Where did the grandmother learn to make pumpkin pie?
4. When did the grandmother usually make the pie?
5. According to the text, what kind of person do you think the writer's grandmother is?

My Favourite Dish: Guoqiao Rice Noodles

@thechinesechefblog Long ago, there was a couple living in Yunnan Province, China. The husband studied on an island far from his home. When his wife went a long way to send meals, the food always got cold. One day, the wife boiled some chicken soup and used a large pot to keep it warm. And she kept the ingredients separate. She put the ingredients into the soup when she reached the island, and she found everything still hot. The Guoqiao Rice Noodles was born!

Here's how to make the dish:

- First, wash the vegetables and mushrooms.
- Next, cut the chicken and pork into thin pieces.
- Then, boil the chicken soup and pour it into a large bowl.
- After that, put the ingredients into the bowl, one by one.
- Finally, add the boiled rice noodles to the bowl.

So, that's my favourite dish. What's yours?

3b What dish do you like the best? Complete the notes.

How can we make good plans?

1a Discuss the questions.

1. What kinds of plans did you make last year?
2. Were you able to stick to the plans? Why or why not?

1b Read the text. Put the sentences in the correct places.

- A. Some resolutions have to do with learning new things.
- B. For example, a student may decide to start a new study plan.
- C. Try to set mini-goals to help you achieve your resolution.
- D. After all, the start of the year is often a perfect time for making resolutions.

Making Resolutions

Do you know what a resolution is? A resolution is a promise that you make to yourself. People make resolutions to improve their life. The most common kind is a New Year's resolution. _____

Resolutions can be about anything. Some are about physical health. For example, some people may promise to exercise more or eat more healthily. _____ People might decide they are going to take up a hobby, like painting or photography. And some resolutions have to do with self-improvement, like becoming more confident or organized. _____

Although there are differences, most resolutions have one thing in common: people hardly ever keep them! But there are good reasons for this. Sometimes the resolutions may be too difficult to keep. And sometimes people just forget about them.

To make your resolutions work, you need to plan them wisely. Always make sure your resolution is possible to achieve. Don't set a goal that is too difficult or too much for you. _____

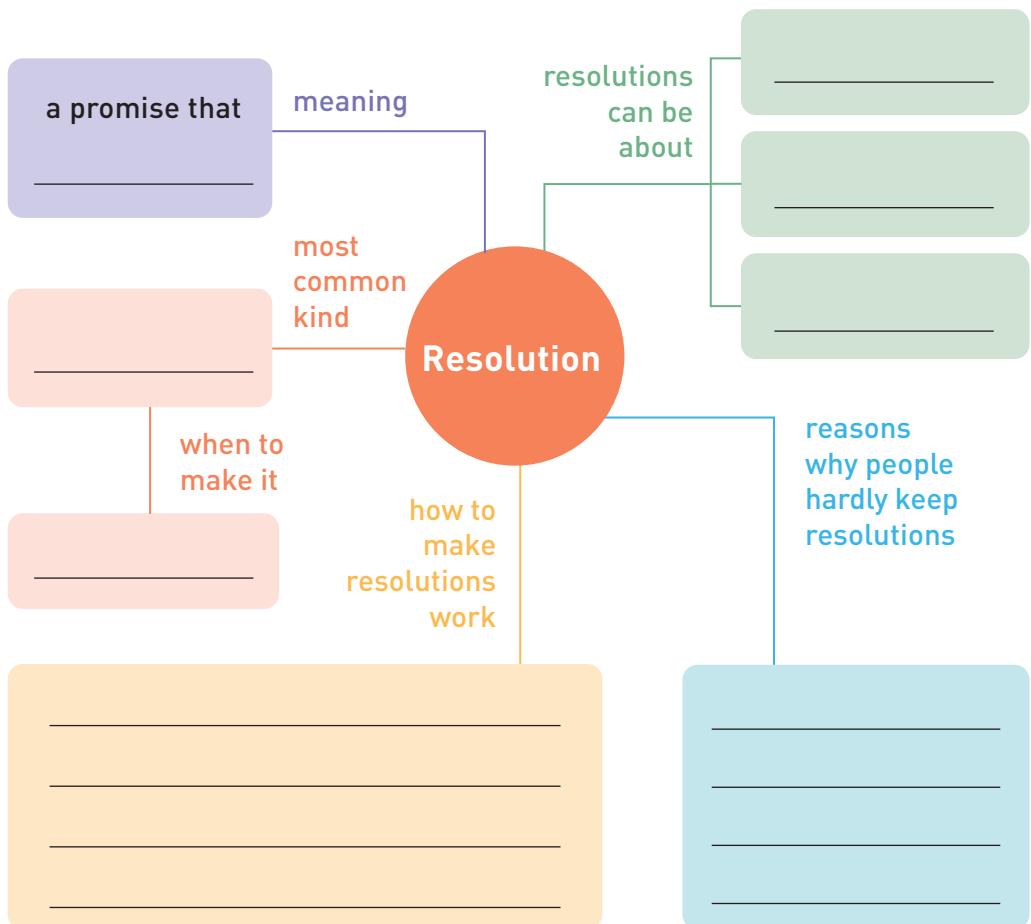

And if you don't want to forget your resolutions, write them down. Also, talk about them with your family and friends. Encourage them to remind you of your goals. So what resolutions are you going to make? How are you going to keep them?

1c Read the text again and match each paragraph with its main purpose.

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| Paragraph 1 | A. To list some popular resolutions |
| Paragraph 2 | B. To introduce the meaning of a resolution |
| Paragraph 3 | C. To give advice on how to achieve resolutions |
| Paragraph 4 | D. To explain why some people fail to keep resolutions |

1d Complete the mind map with the information from the text.

1e Discuss the questions.

1. Do you think it is useful to make resolutions? Why or why not?
2. Do you like to plan ahead or do things at the last moment? Why?

I still remember how disappointed I was when I _____ my maths exam for the first time. Mr Guo found me crying in the classroom after school. He said to me, "Don't give up. Keep working hard and _____ again in the next exam." I promised him that I would not lose hope. After that, Mr Guo often spared some time to help me. Whenever I found something I didn't understand, he was always happy to _____. With his help, my maths skills started to improve. One day, Mr Guo smiled and said, "You see, you are doing a great job. Now keep on _____ and be _____ in your abilities." I went into the final exam with great confidence. Later, I found out I got an A in maths! I was so excited about achieving my goal.

3a Read the text and complete the table.

New Year, New Me

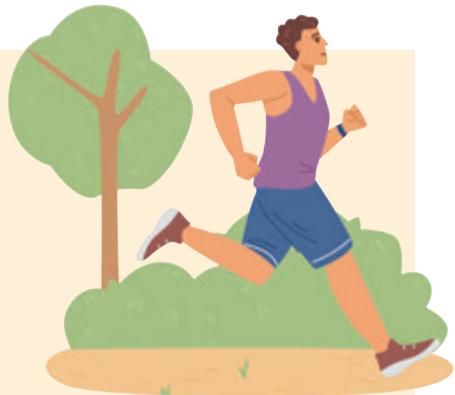

As the year draws to a close, it is the perfect time to think about the changes we want to make in the coming new year. We can improve our lives by learning something new, forming good habits, working harder at something, or even improving our relationships with others.

I hope to make next year better than this one, so I am going to make three resolutions.

The first one is about taking up a new hobby. I am going to join the school music club to improve my singing! I think singing is a great activity. And my friends and family all love my singing.

I am also going to get fitter. Besides jogging, I am going to do push-ups and sit-ups. I feel energetic after I exercise. I'm sure I'm going to be a healthier and happier person.

Last but not least, my English isn't good enough, so I am going to study for two more hours each weekend. It might be hard, but I am going to get a lot better at English!

Host: Good evening, everyone! Our guest today is Dr Pete Roberts, author of the best-selling book Ready for Tomorrow. So welcome to our show, Dr Roberts.

Guest: Good evening. Thank you, it's a pleasure to be here.

Host: Dr Roberts, thank you for joining us. So, as a futurist, can you tell us how life will be different in 50 years?

Guest: Well, you'll see robots working everywhere.

Host: Can you give us some examples?

Guest: Well, we'll have service robots. They will do almost all our housework. They will also help save lives when disasters and emergencies happen.

Host: So, what jobs will humans still do in the future?

Guest: Good question! Some jobs today will disappear in the coming years. However, there will be more challenging jobs in the future, such as space pilots and AI experts.

Host: Do you think robots will replace humans one day?

Guest: No, I don't. Our creativity and emotional intelligence are important for relationships. AI will not replace humans for these things.

Host: You mentioned AI. How will AI change our world?

Guest: It will change the world in many ways. For example, we won't need to go to the supermarket. Smart refrigerators will understand our needs. When we are almost out of some food, they will order it for us.

Host: Wow, that'll save us a lot of time! Now, my last question: How can we prepare for the future?

Guest: It's simple. Just accept change. Keep learning and working hard. Today's choices will influence your future.

Host: Thank you for your time, Dr Roberts.

1c Read again and tick the statements that you can infer from the interview.

- 1. Dr Roberts is very positive about the future.
- 2. In the future, robots will take over most jobs of today.

My Dreams for the Future

What will my life be like in 20 years? It's not an easy question, but here are a few of my predictions. I love art, so I think I will become an artist. I want to study art in France, and then I will visit all the famous art museums. I will learn a lot about different artists and their works of art, and I will create my own too.

As an artist, I will live in the countryside and stay close to nature. There will be flowers and plants around my home. Life there will give me good ideas for making art. At the weekend, I will invite friends to drop in and have fun together. I believe these dreams will come true as long as I study hard and keep on trying.

Expressions

If you can come, I'll be very happy.
If you want to make some new friends, this is a good chance.

If you need help, I think you should tell ...
If you talk to ..., I think he / she will be happy to help you.

If you go there, you'll ...
If you join me, we can ...

Grammar Focus

3a Read the sentences. Find more sentences with if-clauses in Section A.

If you want to solve the problem, a face-to-face talk usually works the best.

Texting can make things worse if you're not careful with your words.

If the rehearsal ends at 7:00 p.m., I'll pick you up at 7:15 p.m.

If you stay calm and say sorry, it will help.

If I go there, I will try all the delicious local food.

3b Match the two parts to make sentences.

1. If we can have a face-to-face meeting,
2. If I have good news,
3. If you need to leave,
4. If you can finish your work early today,

- C. you can write things down for him.
- D. I'll call you right away.
- E. I'll call a taxi for you.
- F. will you join me for dinner?

3c Fill in the blanks with the correct forms of the verbs in brackets. Then discuss what the situations are and whom the information is for.

... If things _____ (go) well, we _____ (see) all those old faces again. Just think how great it will be! If you think you can come, _____ (drop) me a line and I _____ (give) you all the details about the reunion. But promise me you'll think about it seriously.

01:10

Hey, it's me. I wanted to talk to you about the training plan for our team. The new season is coming, so it's time to make a plan for our training. If we _____ (start) earlier this year, I think we _____ (perform) better. _____ (give) me a call and _____ (let) me know if you _____ (think) of a good time for everyone to meet. Talk to you soon!

SECTION B

How can we communicate better?

- 1a What do you talk about when you meet someone for the first time?
- 1b Read the text. Who did the author write this text for?

How to Make a Better Conversation

Do you get nervous when you talk to someone? Do you find it hard to have a conversation with a stranger? If you have such worries, it is time for you to learn some more conversation skills. Here are some tips for making better conversations.

1. Listen carefully and show interest in others. One of the most important things is to listen to the person you speak to. If you are a good listener, you will find some good points to ask questions about. For example, if someone tells you their hobby and you can ask questions about it, they will surely be happy to continue the conversation.
2. Choose the right topic. Some of the best topics might be the weather, sports, music, films, food, or travel. However, it is impolite to ask someone's age, weight, or other personal information. Also, if you don't agree with others, don't argue with them. Just move on to another topic.
3. Be honest and sincere. If you have no idea of a subject, just say "I don't know much about it." If you want to make the other person happy, mention his or her strong points. But don't just pretend to be nice, because people can find out you are not telling the truth.
4. Pay attention to your body language. Sometimes it is just as important as your words. Don't be nervous. Stand up straight, smile, and be yourself—you have a lot to offer.

If you really work at it, you will find having conversations much easier.

1c Complete the table with the information from the text.

How to make a better conversation
Tip	Example
1. _____ _____	● listen and find _____ to ask about, such as his / her _____
2. _____ _____	● talk about _____ but do not ask _____
3. _____ _____	● just say _____ if you have no idea about a subject ● mention the _____ of the other person
4. _____ _____	● stand up _____, _____, and be yourself

1d Find out what the pronouns in bold refer to.

1. ... if someone tells you their hobby and you can ask questions about it, ...
2. Also, if you don't agree with others, don't argue with them.
3. If you have no idea of a subject, just say "I don't know much about it."
4. If you want to make the other person happy, mention his or her strong points.
5. Sometimes it is just as important as your words.
6. If you really work at it, you will find having conversations much easier.

1e Discuss the questions.

1. According to the text, listening plays an important role in a conversation. What do you think makes a good listener?
2. Do you think the tips are reasonable? Why or why not?
3. What other tips can you add to the text?

Vocabulary in Use

- 2a Add the proper suffix to each word in brackets to make a new word. Then complete the sentences with the new words.

- 3a Read an invitation letter for an event. Underline the date, time, place, and topic of the speech.

Minghua Middle School

10 December 20_____

Dear Professor Jones,

We would like to invite you to give a speech at our Education Talk event. The event will take place at 9 a.m. on 10th January. If you are able to attend the event, we will cover all your travel and hotel costs.

The event is an excellent opportunity for students, parents, and teachers to hear new opinions and ideas. If you can spare the time to give a speech on teenagers' communication skills, we are sure the students will benefit a lot from you.

We are looking forward to your reply. If you have any special needs, please let us know. It would be a great honour to have you speak at our school.

Yours sincerely,

- 3b Decide whether each sentence is the opening (O) or the closing (C) for an invitation letter.

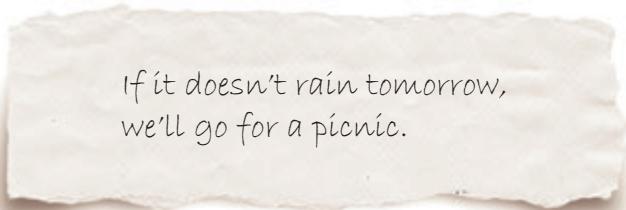

- ____ A. Hoping to meet you there.
- ____ B. I'm writing to invite you to ...
- ____ C. I hope you'll be able to make it.
- ____ D. We would like to invite you to ...
- ____ E. Looking forward to seeing you then.

- 3c Write a letter to invite all students and their parents to attend the speech. Make sure you include these points:

- the opening and the closing sentences
- the date, time, and topic of the speech
- why they should attend the speech (with if-clauses)

- 4a Work in groups. Each student writes one sentence beginning with “If...” on their own piece of paper. For example:

- 4b Put all the pieces of paper into a box or jar. The first person picks one and reads it aloud. Others then add “if” sentences to continue the story. For example:

If we go for a picnic,
everyone will be excited.

If everyone is excited,
we'll play some fun games.

- 4c Take turns to add sentences until the story ends naturally. Each story should include at least five sentences.
- 4d When a story ends, pick another piece of paper. Take turns to tell the next story.

Reflecting

1. What forms of communication do you often use?
2. Which form of communication do you think works the best for you?
3. What will you do to improve your communication skills?
4. Can you use if-clauses to talk about possible future actions?

Good communication skills are key to success in life.

Unit 1

Holiday Experiences

Lin Tao

My best holiday experience was two years ago. My family lives in Wuhan, the biggest city in Central China. That summer, I decided to do something cool: cycling from Wuhan to Beijing with some friends from college. My parents were surprised at my idea, but soon they gave me all their support. With their help, I made a cycling plan. I also learnt a lot from other people's cycling experiences. I packed everything I needed and started the trip. The cycling took us almost a month to complete. It was tiring but worthwhile. I saw beautiful mountains, forests, and rivers. I met a lot of nice people, and some of them gave me a lot of help along the way. But there were also difficulties, and sometimes I just wanted to give up. However, when I finally arrived at Tian'anmen Square, I was so proud of myself.

Amanda

My best holiday experience was when I learnt to scuba dive. My family and I went to a town beside the ocean. At first, I took some classes to learn how to scuba dive safely. I practised in a swimming pool for a few days. Then, I lived on a boat for a week in order to do scuba diving in the ocean. Every day, I went scuba diving with a guide. I saw so many colourful fish, amazing sea animals, and fantastic coral everywhere. While I was diving, another diver pointed, and I realized there was a baby shark near me. It was a stunning experience, and I will never forget it!

1 Read about Lin Tao's and Amanda's holiday experiences and answer the questions.

1. Where did Lin Tao finish his adventure?
2. Who helped Lin Tao make his plans?
3. Where did Amanda learn to scuba dive?
4. Why did Amanda stay on a boat?
5. How did Amanda feel about seeing the baby shark?

2 Tick the correct column.

Holiday experience	Lin Tao	Amanda
• did the activity outside
• did the activity with family
• did the activity with friends
• felt the activity was sometimes very hard

Unit 2

Anne's Decision

(Adapted from Lucy Montgomery's Anne of Green Gables)

Anne was adopted by Marilla when she was little. They lived happily together on a farm called Green Gables. Now Anne is going to a university out of town, but Marilla gets sick ...

Anne came back and found Marilla sitting by the kitchen table. She looked tired.

"Are you OK, Marilla?"

"I saw the doctor," Marilla said sadly. "But it's no good talking about it, Anne. Can you get me a cup of tea?"

"Could you tell me what the doctor said?" Anne asked softly as she brought tea to Marilla.

"He said I must give up all reading, sewing, and farming, or I will go blind."

"Marilla, don't think of it," said Anne. "There is still hope."

"I don't know," said Marilla. "I'm afraid I have to sell Green Gables."

Anne was surprised. "Oh, Marilla, you can't! It's our home!"

"What else can I do, Anne? I'm sorry you won't have a home to come to during your university holidays." Marilla began to cry.

That night, Anne sat in the darkness, alone with her tears and heavy heart. But before long, there was a smile on her lips and peace in her heart.

The next day, she spoke with Marilla. "You mustn't sell Green Gables. I'm going to teach here. I can't leave you alone, Marilla. I'll read to you. We'll be happy together."

"Oh, Anne, you can't do that for me."

"But I want to! Nothing is worse than giving up our home."

"But your dreams ..."

"My dreams are the same: to be a good teacher, and to help you stay healthy. Nobody loves Green Gables as we do. We must keep it."

Most people, not knowing about Marilla's eyes, thought Anne was foolish. Mrs Lynde, their neighbour, did not. She often found Anne and Marilla sitting outside their home. They liked sitting there at dusk, when the smell of flowers filled the air.

1 Read the story and find out what Anne's decision is.

2 Discuss the questions.

1. What is the problem at the beginning of the story?
2. What are Anne's two dreams?
3. Why does Anne make her decision?
4. Why doesn't Mrs Lynde think Anne is foolish?
5. If you were Anne, what would you do?

Four Brothers

(Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tale)

Once upon a time, there were four brothers.

“I can see farther than anyone,” the first brother said. “At the top of that tree, there are five eggs in a nest.”

“I am faster than all of you—I move as quickly as a cat,” said the second brother. He climbed up, took the eggs quietly, and then put them back. The bird never noticed it.

“I can shoot better than all of you,” said the third. He then shot a leaf above the nest.

The fourth brother said, “I can sew anything together, even something as soft as that leaf.” In no time, the leaf was as good as new.

Not long after, the king’s daughter was taken away by a dragon. The king said whoever brought the princess back could marry her.

The first brother said, “I see her! She is far away, on a rock at sea, with the dragon.” So the brothers sailed to the rock.

The third brother said, “I may hurt the princess if I shoot the dragon.”

“Leave it to me,” said the second brother. He moved as quietly as a mouse and quickly freed the princess.

Suddenly, the dragon began to chase them. The third brother shot it, but its fall broke their ship. Luckily, the fourth brother took his needle and sewed the ship together. Then they sailed home safely.

The happy king asked, “Which of you will marry my daughter?” The brothers began to argue. Each brother believed that he did more than the others. Finally, the king said, “Each of you is as good as the others, but you are much stronger together. Instead, I give half of my kingdom to you as a reward.” The brothers were pleased. It was much better to share than to fight.

1 Read the story and complete the table.

Character	First brother	Second brother	Third brother	Fourth brother Ability
Action to save the princess

2 Discuss the questions.

1. Who did the most in saving the princess? Could any of them save her alone?
2. How did the king settle their argument? What do you think of his solution?
3. What did you learn from the story?

Unit 4

The Brave Homing Pigeon

(Adapted from Ernest Seton's Animal Heroes)

Somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean, 1862.

The captain sighed. This was the thickest fog he had ever seen. They were over 330 kilometres from the closest land, so he didn't know where to go. The ship was on its way to Europe. Just ten hours ago they left New York, but now the engine stopped working. Clearly, they needed help!

Suddenly, the captain remembered the homing pigeons. He ran to them quickly, wrote a message for help, and tied it to Big Blue's leg. Big Blue flew up and then returned almost right away.

The captain became more worried.

"You are our last hope, little guy," said the captain as he tied a note to Arny, the smaller and younger of the two pigeons. The captain threw him into the air. Arny flew around and around, higher and higher. Soon, the bird was away from the ship, and the captain couldn't see Arny anymore.

"That's a good sign," said the captain with more hope.

Almost 340 kilometres away, Billy heard fast-moving wings come into his building and go straight to the water bowl.

"Hi there, little guy. Well, aren't you the thirstiest bird!" Billy smiled. Then he saw the note.

Billy knew what to do. He took the note, running as fast as he could to the company office. There, he learnt Arny had flown in fog and over the sea, for more than four hours.

Thanks to Arny, people sent help to the ship.

The captain later explained, "Arny really is the most amazing bird!"

1 Read the story and answer the questions.

1. When did the captain's problem start?
2. How did the captain send a message to Billy?
3. Why did the captain say "That's a good sign"?
4. Why was Arny so thirsty?

2 Do you know any stories about animals that helped people? Share a story with a partner.

Unit 5

The History of Pizza

Do you know pizza is one of the most popular fast foods in the world? In fact, around the world, people eat 5 billion pizzas every year! But where did pizza come from and what makes it so popular? Read on to find out.

Thousands of years ago, the Greeks, Italians, and Persians started putting vegetables, oil, cheese, and other things on flat bread. The ingredients depended on the area, but there was one thing in common: Everyone put the toppings on some type of bread. This was the ancient form of “pizza”.

Our modern pizza goes back to the Romans more than 2,000 years ago. They put cheese and olive oil on bread. In the 1700s, a pizza with tomato sauce and cheese became popular in Naples, Italy. Later, Italians brought the pizza to America, and then it became a popular food all over the world, with different pizzas from different places.

Photographs of movie stars and famous athletes with pizza helped it become more and more popular, and that led to competitions. Today, we have the World Pizza Games. There are also all kinds of world records. For example, in 2017, there was a new record for the world’s longest pizza. It was over 1.9 kilometres long!

Today, pizza is popular all over the world, and different places have their own local pizzas. So do you like eating or cooking pizza? What is your favourite pizza style?

1 Read the text and choose the best answers.

1. The text is mainly about _____ around the world.
A. how pizza spread B. why pizza became popular
C. what made pizza famous

2. How many pizzas are eaten every year?
A. 5 billion. B. 2,000. C. 1,700.
3. Which of the following is NOT a pizza topping?
A. Bread. B. Cheese. C. Tomato sauce.
4. In Paragraph 4, that means _____.
A. pictures of movie stars B. pizza's popularity
C. new kinds of pizza

2 Discuss the questions.

1. Why do you think pizza is so popular all over the world?
2. What is the most popular food or dish in your region? What do you know about it?

Unit 6

The Ant and the Grasshopper

(Adapted from Aesop's Fables)

It was summertime. The ant and the grasshopper were in the farmer's field. The ant was busy collecting corn. The grasshopper was relaxing in the sun.

"Hey, Ant, come sit with me," said the grasshopper.

"No, thanks," said the ant. "I have to take this corn home. I'm preparing for the winter."

A few weeks later, summer was almost at an end. The ant continued to take corn home every day, but the grasshopper just played his violin and danced around.

"Come on, Ant!" said the grasshopper. "Dance with me!"

"No," replied the ant. "I'm going to get more corn. Why don't you join me? You should plan for the winter."

"But the winter is so far away! Your work looks so boring! Come with me! Let's have a picnic!"

"No, thanks, Grasshopper. I'm going to continue with my boring work."

The grasshopper was silent for a while, but then he happily danced away. The ant looked tired, but she felt happy when she saw all the food in her kitchen.

The autumn arrived and the weather became cool and windy. The grasshopper ran around the farm singing songs. The poor ant had to fight her way through the wind. She wanted to collect lots of wood.

"Ant, it's too windy to work!" said the grasshopper. "Come and sing with me!"

"No, thanks, Grasshopper. There's just a little bit more work for me to do. I want to be warm in the winter."

And then the cold winter came. The ant sat at home by her fire, enjoying some lovely corn soup. Then she heard a knock at the door.

"Oh, dear Ant," said the grasshopper, "you must help me! I have no food! And no fire to keep me warm!"

"Sorry, Grasshopper, you must learn to look after yourself. Keep dancing and singing through the winter, and work hard when spring comes!"

1 Read the story and answer the questions.

1. What did Ant do to get ready for the winter?
2. What did Grasshopper do before winter came?
3. What do you think of Ant? What about Grasshopper?

2 Write a new ending to the story.

And then the cold winter came. _____

Looking into the Future

Are you curious about the future? What do you think our life will be like in 50 years or more? To answer this, you can read a sci-fi book. Perhaps you will have some ideas then. Today, many young readers are interested in science fiction. But what makes it so popular?

For one thing, science fiction gives us a chance to imagine what our future will be like. Anything is possible. We can dream big. Some people think there will be flying cars and robot servants. Others believe we will learn more about strange aliens and other worlds.

Another reason is that sci-fi writers and their work can inspire us to create the future. In 1945, a sci-fi author named Arthur C. Clarke wrote about a system of space stations. In the article, he predicted the earth of the future would have many TV stations and people would send TV programmes around the world. However, this was before TV was a common item at home! In a short story by Clarke, he suggested people in the future would use a system to talk with others around the world. Amazingly, the short story was actually the inspiration for the internet!

Science fiction is also popular because it can make us think about our world in new ways. Although many sci-fi stories are set in imaginary worlds or societies, they can help us better understand the real world. They can also make us excited when we feel like we are living in a boring world.

What will the future be like? Sci-fi inspires us and helps us to understand what it could be like.

1 Read the text and answer the questions.

1. What makes science fiction so popular?
2. Do you think sci-fi writers can predict the future? Why?
3. According to the text, what do you think most sci-fi writers have in common?

2 Discuss the questions.

1. What does today's technology inspire us to imagine?
2. What "new" technology today will be common in 10 years?
3. Do you think robots will ever become as creative as humans?

Unit 8

How to Stay Safe Online

No matter whether you like it or not, social media is becoming a big part of many teenagers' lives. The internet is popular among youth people in China. According to a survey by the Central Committee of the Communist Youth League, over 90 per cent of all Chinese minors use the internet and 50 per cent of these young people have made new friends online.

Social media allows people to connect with friends, share experiences, and stay on trend. However, the internet also has risks. It is important to stay safe while having fun online. Here are some simple tips.

First, if you have accounts on different apps, make sure you use strong passwords. Avoid using easy-to-guess information, like your birthday or your pet's name.

Second, be careful when you talk to strangers online. Not every person online is friendly or telling the truth about themselves. Don't share personal details, like your address, school name, or phone number.

Third, if you want to post anything online, think it over. Once it is out there, it is hard to know who sees it. Don't talk about things you may regret.

Lastly, keep your social media profiles private so only real friends can see your posts and information.

Remember, by following these tips, you can stay safe on social media and the internet. Your parents and teachers want the best for you. Be aware of the risks and protect yourself.

1 Read the text and answer the questions.

1. What is the writer's purpose of writing this text?
2. What do people use social media for?
3. What kinds of passwords are easy to guess?

2 Discuss the questions.

1. What are the risks of going online? Give some examples.
2. Why is it important to keep your personal details private?
3. What should you keep in mind if you want to post something online?
Make a list of the dos and don'ts.

Unit 1 Happy Holiday

Section A, 1b and 1c

Conversation 1

Emma: Hi, Yaming. How was your vacation?

Yaming: Hi, Emma. It was great. I went to Mount Huangshan.

Emma: Oh, really? What's it like?

Yaming: It was so beautiful. No one wanted to leave.

Emma: What did you see there?

Yaming: I saw the Guest-Greeting Pine, the Sea of Clouds, lots of strange rocks, and many ancient buildings. Here, I can show you some photos.

Emma: Thanks. Wow! That looks amazing! Did you go with anyone?

Yaming: Yeah, I went with my family. Everyone said they wanted to go again.

Emma: Cool! I'd like to go too!

Conversation 2

Yaming: How about you, Emma? Where did you go on holiday?

Emma: I went back to the US with my mum and sister.

Yaming: I see. So, did you do anything interesting there?

Emma: Yes, I went to a strawberry festival. The food was great! Everything had strawberries in it. I ate strawberry cookies and strawberry chocolates. They were delicious!

Yaming: That sounds fantastic!

Emma: Yeah, it was. The festival was near my grandparents' house in California too.

Yaming: Nice! Did you stay with them?

Emma: Yes, we stayed for ten days.

Section A, 2a and 2d

Adam: Hi, Peter. How are you?

Peter: Hi, Adam. I'm fine, thanks.

Adam: How was your holiday?

Peter: It was fantastic.

Adam: Did you go anywhere interesting?

Peter: Yes, I went to Yunnan with my family.

Adam: Wow! That sounds great. Did you go to Lijiang?

Peter: Yes, we stayed in the old town for a few days, and we enjoyed it very much.

Adam: Did you visit Yulong Mountain? Everyone says it's beautiful.

Peter: It is! It just took my breath away. We took a lot of great photos there.

Adam: Did you eat anything special?

Peter: Yes, we did! Everything tasted good, especially the steamed chicken soup. What about you? Someone said you went to Beijing.

Adam: No, not this holiday. I did nothing special. I just stayed at home to read, play games, and relax, but it was still fun.

Unit 2 Home Sweet Home

Section A, 1b and 1c

Conversation 1

Jim: Dad, can I hang out with my friends after lunch?

Dad: Sorry, Jim, you have to pack up your things first.

Jim: But I want to spend time with them before we move.

Dad: I know, but we need to get ready before the movers come. Can you sort your things into those boxes?

Jim: OK. After that, could I go out?

Dad: Yes. Remember to write “Jim’s bedroom” on each box!

Jim: No problem, Dad.

Conversation 2

Jim: I love our new house. The living room is so big! Could we keep some fish here?

Dad: Well, Jim, that’s a lot of work. Can you take care of them every day?

Jim: Yes!

Dad: OK. Now, could you please help me hang up the photos?

Jim: Sure.

Helen: Our balcony is so big and gets a lot of sunshine. Can I grow some flowers there?

Mum: Yes, you can. That’s a great idea, Helen!

Peter: Mum, can I invite my friends to our new house?

Mum: Yes, Peter, but help clean up first. Could you please sweep the floor? I’ll clean the bathroom.

Peter: OK, Mum.

Section A, 2a and 2d

Dad: Guess what! Grandpa and Grandma are visiting us this weekend!

Jim: Oh, great!

Peter: I can't wait to show them our new house!

Mum: Yes, but now we need to get ready for their arrival. Can you help me clean up their room?

Peter: But their room is already clean!

Mum: Well, it's not "grandma clean" yet!

Peter: Oh, OK.

Dad: Jim, can you help me put the new clock on the wall? I bought it for Grandpa to see the time.

Jim: Sure, Dad.

Dad: Helen, can you move this chair to their room? Grandpa likes reading books in front of the window.

Helen: No problem, Dad. Can I put some flowers by the window?

Dad: Yes, good idea! Grandma loves flowers.

Helen: Mum, could you take me to the flower shop later?

Mum: No problem. Let's go after lunch.

Unit 3 Same or Different?

Section A, 1b and 1d

Peter: Chen Jie, did you hear about the school music festival?

Chen Jie: Yeah, it sounds fun.

Peter: Why don't you perform? You play the Chinese flute better than anyone else in our music club.

Chen Jie: Well, I'm afraid of performing alone. I'm not as outgoing as you.

Peter: But you work harder than me. And last week you played a really beautiful song!

Chen Jie: You liked it? Maybe we could play it together!

Peter: Great idea!

Section A, 1c and 1d

Mrs Brown: I loved your performance! You two did a wonderful job!

Peter and Chen Jie: Thank you!

Peter: Look, it's time for Ella and Emma's show!

Mrs Brown: Is that Ella singing?

Peter: No, that's Emma. Emma is taller than Ella. And she sings louder than Ella.

Chen Jie: Look! That is Ella dancing. Her hair is longer than Emma's.

Peter: They both dance well, but I think Ella dances better than her sister.

Section A, 2a and 2c

Han Lin: Congratulations on winning the prize at the school music festival!

The twins: Thank you!

Han Lin: You attended the festival last year and this year. How is this year different?

Ella: There are more students and more activities this year. I think it is more colourful than last year.

Han Lin: As twins, you look very similar. How are you different?

Emma: I'm a little quieter than Ella. And she is funnier than me.

Ella: Emma always gets up earlier than me. Many people say I'm lazier than Emma, but that's not true! I work as hard as her!

Han Lin: That's really interesting. Besides singing, how do you both spend your spare time?

Ella: I love playing sports more than anything.

Emma: I like reading. You see, we're different in many ways, but together, we make a great team!

Han Lin: Thanks for talking with me.

The twins: Our pleasure!

Unit 4 Amazing Plants and Animals

Section A, 1b and 1c

Conversation 1

Emma: Hi, Yaming. What are you doing?

Yaming: Hi, Emma. I'm starting a test on animals and plants.

Emma: Sounds fun. Let's take it together.

Yaming: OK. First question. What's the largest animal in the world?

Emma: It's the blue whale, right?

Yaming: Right. It's also the heaviest animal on earth. Next question. Which animal runs the fastest?

Emma: Oh wait! I just read about it. The cheetah runs the fastest.

Yaming: Right again! And I think it's the most beautiful animal in the world.

Emma: I completely agree with you.

Conversation 2

Yaming: Now let's answer the questions about plants. What is the oldest plant in the world?

Emma: Hmm, I'm not sure. Do you have any idea?

Yaming: Well, I think moss is one of the oldest plants. It appeared on earth around 470 million years ago ... Oh, look here. I'm correct!

Emma: Interesting! Let's go on!

Yaming: Which kind of tree is the tallest in the world?

Emma: The redwood tree, right?

Yaming: Yes! I hope I can see some someday.

Section A, 2a and 2d

Ella: Oh, what's that, Chen Jie? It's so beautiful!

Chen Jie: Thanks. It's a folding fan. I bought it last year.

Ella: Oh! It has a painting of bamboo on it.

Chen Jie: Yeah. Bamboo is one of the most popular subjects in Chinese paintings. It's a symbol of goodness in Chinese culture.

Ella: I didn't know that before. So, where did you get that fan?

Chen Jie: At the Bamboo Sea in Sichuan, the largest and oldest bamboo forest in China. I learnt lots of interesting things when I was there.

Ella: Really? Like what?

Chen Jie: Well, bamboo is one of the fastest-growing plants. Some bamboo can grow almost one metre in one day. Also, it's one of the most useful plants in the world. People can use it to build houses and make tools and instruments.

Ella: Oh, that's interesting. I remember pandas love to eat bamboo too, right?

Chen Jie: Exactly! Actually we eat bamboo shoots too. They're really delicious.

Unit 5 What a Delicious Meal!

Section A, 1b and 1c

Peter: Let's make some mashed potatoes for lunch.

Teng Fei: Great idea! How do we make them?

Peter: Well, first, get some potatoes and wash them.

Teng Fei: OK. How many do we need?

Peter: Six. Cut them into pieces.

Teng Fei: OK. Done.

Peter: Next, put the potatoes in the pot and boil them until they are soft.

Teng Fei: Got it.

Peter: Then, we need some milk and butter. Can you get them for me, please?

Teng Fei: Sure. How much do we need?

Peter: One tablespoon of butter and half a cup of milk ... Thanks. Now, let's start mashing the potatoes.

Teng Fei: The potatoes are done.

Peter: Now, add the milk and butter to the potatoes, and mix.

Teng Fei: Like this?

Peter: Great! Finally, add salt and pepper ... OK. We're done! Let's try them!

Teng Fei: Mmm ... How delicious they taste!

Section A, 2a and 2c

Peter: Hey Teng Fei, can you teach me how to cook a popular Chinese dish?

Teng Fei: Sure. How about stir-fried eggs and tomatoes?

Peter: Great idea. How do we make it?

Teng Fei: We need eggs, tomatoes, salt, and sugar.

Peter: OK. How many tomatoes and eggs do we need?

Teng Fei: Four tomatoes and three eggs.

Peter: OK. What should we do with the tomatoes and eggs?

Teng Fei: First, cut the tomatoes into small pieces. Next, mix the eggs in a bowl.

Peter: Like this?

Teng Fei: Perfect. Then, heat some oil in a pan and add the eggs to it. Stir-fry for one minute.

Then take the eggs out of the pan.

Peter: Got it.

Teng Fei: Next, cook the tomatoes in the pan until they're soft. Then, add some salt and sugar.

Peter: What an amazing smell! What's next?

Teng Fei: Finally, put the eggs back into the pan and mix them with the tomatoes.

Peter: Wow, it looks so good! How simple!

Unit 6 Plan for Yourself

Section A, 1b and 1c

Conversation 1

Susan: John, what do you want to be when you grow up?

John: I want to be a fireman.

Susan: Wow! But why?

John: Well, my uncle is a firefighter. He is like a hero to me. So I want to be just like him.

Susan: So how are you going to become a fireman?

John: I'm going to exercise every day, because a fireman needs to be strong.

Susan: Yes, you need to be really fit.

Conversation 2

Jason: Tina, what do you want to be when you grow up?

Tina: I want to be a fashion designer.

Jason: Cool! How are you going to do that?
Tina: I'm going to take art lessons and practise my drawing skills every day.
Jason: That sounds great!
Tina: What about you, Jason? What do you want to be when you're older?
Jason: I want to be an IT engineer.
Tina: Nice! How do you plan to do that?
Jason: I'm going to work hard at maths. And I'm also going to read more books about IT and AI.

Section A, 2a and 2c

Adam: What are you reading, Fu Xing?
Fu Xing: It's a book of essays by a famous Chinese writer.
Adam: Wow, now I know why you're so good at writing.
Fu Xing: Thanks! You know, I want to be a writer when I'm older.
Adam: Really? How do you plan to do that?
Fu Xing: I'm going to read more classics. And also, I'm going to keep on writing stories and essays.
Adam: Your plan sounds wonderful! I think you're going to be a great writer.
Fu Xing: I hope so! What about you, Adam? What do you want to be when you're older?
Adam: My parents want me to be a doctor, but I'm not sure about that.
Fu Xing: Well, don't worry. Not everyone knows what they want to be. Just make sure you try your best at school. Then you can do anything you want!
Adam: Yeah, you're right.

Unit 7 When Tomorrow Comes

Section A, 1b

Teng Fei: Hi, Peter! Are you free tomorrow? A new sci-fi film is coming out. I know you like sci-fi films. Shall we go to see it?
Peter: Oh, I'd love to! Which cinema shall we go to?
Teng Fei: What about the Huaxia Cinema?
Peter: Good idea!
Teng Fei: OK. I'll book the tickets online now ... OK, done. The film starts at 5:15 p.m.
Peter: Good. Shall we meet at the cinema at five o'clock?
Teng Fei: All right. See you then!

Section A, 1c

Peter: What an exciting sci-fi film! I really loved the story.

Teng Fei: Me too. But do you think the film was right? Will climate change be worse in the future?

Peter: I'm afraid so. Some scientists believe there will be less land to grow food.

Teng Fei: I don't think there will be less land.

Peter: You seem quite positive about the future.

Teng Fei: I am. I read that people could plant trees and turn deserts into forests. And we can make more farmland too.

Peter: Perhaps you are right. So, do you think we will still live on earth in the future?

Teng Fei: Yes, but I believe we'll keep on exploring space.

Section A, 2a and 2d

Helen: Hi, Jennifer. What's up?

Jennifer: Oh, hi, Helen. I'm watching a video about future predictions.

Helen: So, what will the future be like?

Jennifer: Well, there will be more people in cities, but the transport system will be more efficient. It means that there will be fewer traffic accidents.

Helen: Sounds great! Any other predictions?

Jennifer: Students probably won't go to a school in the future. They will study at home or any place they want.

Helen: Oh, but I really like going to school! Anything else?

Jennifer: And people will live longer.

Helen: Really? Why?

Jennifer: Because we'll have better health care technology in our homes. Machines will tell us how to solve small health problems before they become bigger.

Helen: That'll be great. How long will most people live?

Jennifer: Well, more people will live to be over 100 years old. Some may even live to be 150.

Helen: Wow, that sounds wonderful!

Unit 8 Let's Communicate!

Section A, 1b and 1c

Conversation 1

Dad: Hello?

Jim: Hi Dad, I have a rehearsal after school. Can you pick me up later?

Dad: Sure. When does it end?

Jim: We'll finish at 7:00 p.m. if it's on time. Can you pick me up at 7:15?

Dad: OK. If everything goes well, I'll see you at 7:15. If the traffic is too bad, you'll have to wait for a few minutes.

Jim: Got it. I'll wait for you at the school gate. Bye!

Dad: Bye!

Conversation 2

Emma: Grandpa, can you see me? Welcome to People's Park! Let me use the camera to show you around.

Grandpa: Hello! Yes, I can see you and the park. Oh, people are singing and dancing. They seem happy.

Emma: Yeah. Many people come here to exercise and relax.

Grandpa: If I visit China this year, I will go to the park with you. It seems fun and lively.

Emma: Great! If you can make it, I'll show you around the city and let you taste all the yummy local food.

Grandpa: Wonderful!

Section A, 2a and 2d

Jason: Professor, thanks for the helpful speech on communication. I have a question. Sometimes my friends and I argue but don't know how to make up. What's the best way to communicate in this situation?

Professor: If you want to solve the problem, a face-to-face talk usually works the best.

Jason: I understand, but meeting in person is not always easy.

Professor: If you can't meet, just call your friend. Some of you may prefer texting, but it takes longer and can make things worse if you're not careful with your words.

Jason: But what if we argue more over the phone?

Professor: If you stay calm and say sorry, it will help. If it is still hard to talk, take a break. Meet when you're both ready.

Jason: I'll call and try to meet. Because friendship is important. Thanks for the advice!

Professor: You're welcome.

Pronunciation

一、句子重音 (Sentence Stress)

在英语句子中，实词（如名词、动词、形容词、副词等）承载重要信息，一般需要重读；而充当语法功能的词（如冠词、连词、介词、助动词等）一般弱读。但这条读音规律并非一成不变，句子中的重音可以随着说话者要表达的意思的变化而变化。例如：

Please pass me the 'book. (强调把“书”递给我，而不是把别的东西给我)

Please pass the book to 'me. (强调把书递给“我”，而不是给其他人)

A: I think she will win.

B: She 'won't. (预测她“不会”赢)

A: She 'will. (坚信她一定“会”赢)

一般情况下，me、will等功能词在句中弱读，但在上述情境中这两个词需要重读。

二、弱读 (Weak Form)

在英语语流中，说话者一般会遵循省力原则，弱读不太重要的功能词，给听者的印象是某些词一带而过，甚至含混不清。实际上，这种听觉上的模糊读音有规律可循。了解弱读的一些基本规律，一方面有助于我们准确理解语流中的弱读音，另一方面在自己表达时也能尽量做到强弱得当。

表1 常见功能词的弱读形式

a /ə/	am /əm/	from /frəm/
an /ən/	are /ə/	have /həv; əv/
you /jə; jʊ/	do /də/	has /həz; əz/
them /ðəm/	does /dəz/	had /həd; əd/
her /hə; ə/	and /ənd; ən/	can /kən/
us /əs/	but /bət/	could /kəd/
there /ðə/	for /fə/	must /məst; məs/

根据表中例词可以看出，这些功能词的元音一般会弱化为 /ə/。

三、意群 (Sense Group)

意群是句子内部意义相对完整的一组词。意群的界限是相对的。一个句子可以是一个大意群，也可分为若干个小意群，句子内的意群之间停顿时间较短，用一根竖直线

(|) 标出。句子和句子之间的停顿时间较长，用两根竖直线 (||) 标出。例如：

Home is a place of love.|| It always welcomes me|with open arms|—and perhaps|a plate of freshly-made biscuits.

每个意群要一口气说完。在说每个意群时，要注意词与词之间的连读、不完全爆破和词的弱读等现象。

四、语调 (Intonation)

英语有两种最基本的语调，即降调和升调。降调的基本意义是“肯定”和“完结”，通常用于陈述句、特殊疑问句、选择疑问句的后半部分、祈使句和感叹句等。升调的基本意义是“不确定”和“未完结”，可表示犹豫、怀疑、婉转、含蓄、试探等含义。升调通常用于一般疑问句、陈述句表示疑问的各类句子，以及表示意思未完的各种情况。升调可以用于说话者不能确定信息是否准确，需要对方核实的情况。例如：

A: I'm putting the mixture into the oven. What temperature and time should I set?

B: 160 ↘ degrees, 50 ↘ minutes.

A: 160 ↗ degrees? 50 ↗ minutes?

B: Exactly.

在列举事物时，前面的各件事物都用升调，最后一件事物用降调。例如：

The family enjoy outdoor activities such as mountain ↗ climbing, ↗ hiking,
↗ boating, and ↘ camping.

同一句话用不同语调表达时，意义也会有所不同。

Be ↘ quiet. (表示命令)

Be ↗ quiet. (表示善意的警告)

I'm ↗ sorry. (比较随意)

I'm ↘ sorry. (比较真诚)

You will go to the party, ↗ won't you? (说话人不太确定，提出问题让对方回答)

You will go to the party, ↘ won't you? (说话人比较确定，提出问题让对方确认)

Grammar

一、不定代词 (Indefinite Pronouns)

不指明代替任何特定名词或形容词的代词叫作不定代词。常见的不定代词如下：

some 一些	one 一个 (人或物)
somebody 某人	another 另外一个；又一个
someone 某人	other(s) 另一个 (些)
something 某事；某物	all 全体；全部
any 一些；任何	both 两个 (都)
anybody 任何人	each 每个
anyone 任何人	either 任何一个 (指两个当中)
anything 任何事物	neither 没人或物 (指两个当中)
nobody 无人	none 没人或物 (指两个以上)
no one 无人	many 很多
nothing 无物	much 很多
everybody 每人；大家；人人	few 很少；几乎没有
everyone 每人	a few 一些；几个
everything 每一件事物；一切	little 很少；几乎没有
	a little 一些；一点儿

不定代词大都可以代替名词和形容词，在句子中用作主语、宾语、定语等。关于不定代词的用法，需要注意以下几点：

1. some 和 any

这两个代词既可代替或修饰可数名词，也可代替或修饰不可数名词。some 多用于肯定句，any 则多用于否定句、疑问句和条件从句。例如：

A: Are there any apples in the fridge?

B: Yes, there are some. / No, there aren't any.

A: Is there any water in the bottle?

B: Yes, there is some water. / No, there isn't any water.

但是，在“Would you like some tea?”这类疑问句中则用 some，而不用 any，这是因为说话人希望得到对方肯定的答复。

2. many 和 much

这两个词均表示“很多”，但 many 只代替或修饰可数名词复数，而 much 只代替或修饰不可数名词。例如：

In the future, many people will live in outer space.

There isn't much water left in the bottle.

I'm afraid the kids spend too much time online.

3. few 与 a few; little 和 a little few 与 a few 代替或修饰可数名词复数；little 与 a little 代替或修饰不可数名词。few 和 little 的意思是“很少；几乎没有”，侧重“否定”的含义；a few 和 a little 的意思是“一些”，侧重“肯定”的含义。例如：

We stayed in the old town for a few days.

Don't worry. There is a little time left.

Few people know what happened.

There is now little hope of success.

4. 复合不定代词

由 some、any、no、every 加上 -body、-one、-thing 构成的不定代词叫作复合不定代词。除了 no one 以外，其他复合不定代词都写成一个词。复合不定代词只相当于名词，在句中用作主语、宾语或表语。复合不定代词作主语时，都作单数看待。例如：

Everyone says Yulong Mountain is beautiful.

Nobody knows what the future will be like.

I'm on vacation in Hangzhou and everything is fantastic.

复合不定代词如果有定语修饰，定语须置于复合不定代词之后。例如：

Did you do anything fun on your holiday?

I did nothing special.

Yesterday, I met someone interesting.

二、形容词和副词的比较级与最高级（Comparative and Superlative Forms of Adjectives and Adverbs）

大多数形容词和副词有三个等级：原级，即原形；比较级，表示“较……”或“更……一些”；最高级，表示“最……”。

1. 形容词和副词的比较级和最高级的构成

(1) 规则变化

表1 形容词和副词的比较级和最高级的构成（规则变化）

构成方法	原级	比较级	最高级
单音节词 和部分双音节词	一般情况下，比较级词尾加-er，最高级词尾加-est。	tall short fast high	taller shorter faster higher	tallest shortest fastest highest
	以字母e结尾的词，比较级词尾加-r，最高级词尾加-st。	large late	larger later	largest latest
	重读闭音节词尾只有一个辅音字母时，先双写该辅音字母，然后比较级词尾加-er，最高级词尾加-est。	big fat thin	bigger fatter thinner	biggest fattest thinnest
	以“辅音字母+y”结尾的双音节词，先把y改为i，然后比较级词尾加-er，最高级词尾加-est。	easy heavy early	easier heavier earlier	easiest heaviest earliest
多音节词 和部分双音节词	词前加more构成比较级，词前加most构成最高级。	beautiful interesting popular	more beautiful more interesting more popular	most beautiful most interesting most popular

(2) 不规则变化

表2 形容词和副词的比较级和最高级的构成（不规则变化）

原级	比较级	最高级
good / well	better	best
bad / badly	worse	worst
many / much	more	most
little	less	least
far	farther	farthest
	further	furthest

2. 形容词和副词的比较级和最高级的用法

表3 形容词和副词的比较级和最高级的用法

等级	用法	例句
比较级	表示两者（人或事物）的比较。在“比较级+than”的句型中，当than前后所使用的动词相同时，通常用助动词代替后面的动词。该助动词也可以省略。	I'm more outgoing than my sister. You know more about yourself than I (do). He works much harder than me. (口语中一般用me)
最高级	表示三者或三者以上（人或事物）的比较，其中有一个在某一方面超过其他几个，后面可用带有of、in、among的短语等来说明比较的范围。形容词最高级的前面一般要加定冠词the，副词最高级前的the可以省去。	The blue whale is the largest and heaviest animal in the world. In my country, July is the hottest month of the year. The cheetah runs (the) fastest among all land animals.

注：在形容词和副词的比较级前，可以用much、a little等修饰。例如：

I'm feeling much better today.

My brother is a little taller than me.

3. “as + 形容词或副词原形 + as”句型

(1) 表示两者在某一方面相同时，用“as + 形容词或副词原形 + as”的句型。例如：

I think science is as important as maths.

Tom runs as fast as Jack.

(2) 表示一方在某一方面不及另一方时，用“not as / so + 形容词或副词原形 + as”的句型。例如：

It is not as / so warm today as yesterday.

He did not come as / so early as Wang Lin.

三、情态动词 (Modal Verbs)

情态动词 can / could

情态动词can和could都可用于表示能力、请求允许和给予许可，以及提出请求和建议。例如：

Can you speak English? 你会说英语吗？(能力)

He could sing very well when he was young. 他年轻的时候歌唱得很好。(能力)

A: Can I put some flowers on the table? 我能在桌上摆些花吗？(请求允许)

B: Yes, of course you can. 可以, 当然可以。(表示许可)
Could I use your mobile phone? 我可以用你的手机吗? (请求允许)
Can you help me hang up the photos? 你能帮我把这些照片挂起来吗? (提出请求)
Could you please sweep the floor? 请你打扫一下地板, 好吗? (提出请求)
We can eat in a restaurant this evening. 今晚我们可以在餐馆吃饭。(提出建议)
Maybe I could give you a lift to the supermarket. 也许我可以让你搭我的车去超市。
(提出建议)
We could go fishing this weekend. 这个周末我们可以去钓鱼。(提出建议)

四、一般将来时 (Simple Future Tense)

一般将来时通常由“助动词+动词原形”构成, 表示将来某个时间要发生的动作或存在的状态, 也表示将来经常或反复发生的动作, 常与表示将来的时间状语连用, 如 tomorrow、next week、next year、in the future 等。例如:

We will come to see you next week.

You will see robots working everywhere in the future.

Some jobs today will disappear in the coming years. However, there will be more challenging jobs in the future.

What will your life be like in 20 years?

在口语中, will常缩略为'll, will not常缩略为won't /wən't/。在表示“带意愿色彩的将来”时, 常用助动词will。例如:

I will tell you all about it.

当主语为第一人称(I或we)时, 也可用助动词shall。例如:

Shall we go to see the sci-fi film?

在书面语中, 当主语为第一人称(I或we)时, 也可用助动词shall, 表达比较正式。例如:

I shall write you a letter next month.

但在口语中, 所有人称都可以用will。

注: “be going to + 动词原形”也可表示将要发生的动作或安排, 或打算、计划、决定要做的事。例如:

I'm going to read more books about computer science and AI.

I'm hungry. I'm going to make a sandwich.

What are you going to do tonight?

How are you going to improve yourself?

五、句子种类 (Sentence Types)

英语句子按照用途可分为陈述句、疑问句、祈使句和感叹句四类。

表4 句子种类

句子种类	用途	例句
陈述句	用于说明事实或说话人的看法。	Bamboo is a symbol of goodness in Chinese culture. I think you are going to be a great writer.
疑问句	用于提出问题。	Did you do anything special on holiday? What do you want to be when you grow up? Which would you like, tea or coffee? It's a lovely day, isn't it?
祈使句	用于表示请求、命令、劝说、号召、警告、建议等。	Let's make some mashed potatoes for lunch. Don't be nervous. Pay attention to your body language. Come in, please.
感叹句	用于表达强烈的感情。	How clever you are! What wonderful memories I have!

六、句子的成分 (Parts of a Sentence)

句子的成分可分为主语、谓语、表语、宾语、宾语补足语、定语和状语等。主语和谓语是句子的主体部分。

表5 句子的成分

句子成分	意义	例句
主语	表示句子所说的是“什么人”或“什么事物”，一般由名词、代词或相当于名词的词或短语等充当。	My sister wants to be a singer. Everything tasted good. The film starts at half past two.
谓语	说明主语“做什么”“是什么”或者“怎么样”。谓语(谓语部分主要的词)用动词。谓语和主语在人称和数两方面必须一致。	I love our new house. I often do my homework after school. Many people are singing and dancing in the park.
表语	说明主语“是什么”或者“怎么样”，由名词、形容词或相当于名词或形容词的词或短语等充当，和系动词一起构成谓语。	The metro stations are beautiful . You seem positive about the future . A good friend is like a mirror . I felt sick after walking in the rain for too long.

续表

句子成分	意义	例句
宾语	表示动作、行为的对象，由名词、代词或相当于名词的词或短语等充当，和谓语一起说明主语“做什么”。	We need some milk and butter . Could you take me to the flower shop? Grandpa likes reading books in front of the window.

后记

本套教科书（七~九年级）由人民教育出版社课程教材研究所英语课程教材研究开发中心依据教育部《义务教育英语课程标准（2022年版）》编写。

本套教科书集中反映了基础教育课程改革的最新成果，总结了上一版《义务教育教科书 英语》的编写经验，凝聚了教育专家、学科专家、教材编写人员、教研人员及一线教师的集体智慧。本套教科书封面设计由中央美术学院设计团队完成，人民教育出版社设计部制作。本册教科书版式设计为胡白珂，内文插图绘制为王平，参加编写工作的还有马小洁、辜翔宇、张琳琳、熊金霞、游晓霞，参加编辑工作的还有肖菲、张译峻、唐芳心。我们感谢为本册教科书提供部分内容素材和咨询的赵曼云、黄乘明以及所有对教科书的编写、审读、试教、出版等提供过帮助与支持的同仁和社会各界朋友。

本册教科书出版之前，我们通过多种渠道与教科书选用作品的作者进行了联系，得到了他们的大力支持。视觉中国等图库、成都市高新区银都紫藤初中学校以及张朝平、雷森为本册教科书提供了图片素材。对此，我们表示衷心的感谢！

我们真诚地希望广大教师、学生及家长在使用本册教科书过程中提出宝贵的意见和建议。我们将本着精益求精的态度，集思广益，不断修订，努力使教科书日趋完善。
